Books

Three PHOTOBBOOKS of Sr Jean's work are also available.

The first is, REFLECTIONS (photos of nature with some short reflective texts). Contemplatives set out on a long journey, the journey inwards, exploring what lies within the human spirit and what lies beyond it. 'We are not forced to take wings to find God but only have to seek solitude and look within ourselves.' St Teresa of Avila.

£15 plus basic postage.

The second book, STEPHEN FOSTER: A Contemporary Artist (shows almost all of Stephen's work). This presentation of Stephen Foster's work explores the thematic relationship of a lifetime's work through prayer, inspiration and the unfolding development of new techniques. The path of this book follows the Christian cycle of the Annunciation, birth, early life, baptism and later life of Jesus through the Crucifixion to the triumph of the Resurrection. There are short texts written by a number of priests describing Stephen's work in their churches. Quality bound books.

80 pages.

£23 plus basic postage.

Books

In the third book, AT THE STILL POINT OF THE TURNING WORLD, there are photographs of close ups of flowers followed by more creative shots often playing with light, reflections and shadows and honing in on a detail or almost obscure facet of the natural world. Her photography has always been of a contemplative intention. That is, stillness for stillness' sake without analysis of either the observation or of the observer.

A particular fascination for her is reflections in water and the abstract nature of images at the point where reality dissolves into mystery. 'The relation between what we see and what we know is never settled.' John Berger Ways of Seeing.

This photobook contains numerous short texts, philosophic or poetic and they bear witness in their own way to the contemplative life at the Monastery. £23 plus basic postage.
